ERN LOUISIANA INSTITUTE

L'ACADIEN - 1956

SOUTHWESTERN LOUISIANA INSTITUTE, LAFAYETTE, LOUISIANA

HARRY DE LA RUE

Professor and Head of the Department of Social Studies

— d e d i c a t i o n —

The term patron, in spite of the connotations of dubious respect which have clustered about it in modern times, had a noble beginning. It originated in the Latin word pater and first signified in English "one who takes a fatherly interest in a person, practice or institution."

Since 1926 L'Acadien has had a steadfast patron in this noble, original sense of the word in the person of Professor Harry De La Rue; and it is to him that this 1956 edition of L'Acadien is most respectfully dedicated.

Growth and expansion on the Southwestern campus have left only moss-laden cypress trees as a reminder of picturesque Cypress Lake. We hope this photograph of the lake serves as an additional reminder of its beauty and serenity, just as we hope this year's L'Acadien serves to remind you of campus personalities, events and activities that have had special meaning for you in the year 1956.

Naughty Bill and his little box of tricks. Shirley Le-Blanc looks surprised too, but maybe that's because Bill has just presented her as the 1955 Blue Key Darling.

Can you figure this one out? Are these Home Ec Club members displaying the dolls you see or are they modeling that new look in ladies' fashions?

Too bad about this one—none of the geologists look rockhoundish as W. E. Whippe explains this diagram at their semi-annual banquet.

The morning after the night before? Not exactly. At 6:30 in the morning these seniors smile only because they have just been tapped into Vermilion Honor Society.

Bob Jackson tries a joke at the annual P.E.M. club banquet but in vain—or so we guess by the looks on the faces of the guests.

Charmed, I'm sure! Arnold Air Society members minding their P's and Q's at the annual Arnold Air Society Tea-Dance.

intramural activity

The Intramural Program at Southwestern Louisiana Institute is under the supervision of the Athletic Department.

The program is organized in four divisions, the Fraternities, ROTC, Dormitories and the Independent Groups. Provision is also made so that those students who wish to compete as individuals have an opportunity to do so in many of the activities.

Suitable awards such as trophies, plaques, and medals shall be provided for the awards as determined by the Intramural Department. Champions in each sport and the All-Sport Champion are recognized by awards for their achievements.

Sports on the Intramural Program are touch football, swimming, basketball, track and field, softball, volleyball, cross country, tennis, singles and doubles; handball, singles and doubles; badminton, singles and doubles; golf, medalist and foursome.

Going, going, going . . .

Time out for Audrey Rush and her favorite pastime—making up the backs of pictures!

Our top typist, Barbara Barras, is quite a genius when it comes to a typewriter!

At long last we can call it a day for the job of editing L'Acadien for 1956 is done! In signing off, I find it interesting to note that among all the things an editor has to remember and there are many—good and bad—only the good things keep coming back to me right now. Most of the good things I remember involve people such as Professor Harry DeLaRue, a true advisor in every sense of the word; my willing and capable staff, willing even after 1 in the morning; Mr. John Stephan, the photographer who never failed to come up with a solution to all my picture problems; Mr. Fred Elsing and Mr. Tom Murray of Taylor Publishing Company, the two men with all the answers to my yearbook worries, and all the other people who helped in the countless little ways that make a difference. Their cooperation and assistance have made the job that is done a pleasant one and for this I am most grateful.

Sincerely,
Bea Yazbeck
